The trip to Poland ... forced us all to transcend our religious ... political ... and cultural boundaries in order to bear witness to the common humanity we all share ... the common humanity that speaks in the language of life and death ... hope and despair ... joy and pain ... acceptance and alienation ... This common humanity is what should unite us when injustice is inflicted upon any one of us ... on the basis of these differences. This is not to eradicate the differences ... but to transcend them when there is a need to embrace a higher ideal. — AYESHA SIDDIOUI CHAUDHRY, MUSLIM CANADIAN

The March of Remembrance and Hope is a dynamic educational leadership program. Its purpose is to teach students of different religious and ethnic backgrounds about the dangers of intolerance through the study of the Holocaust, and to promote better relations among people of diverse cultures.

The March of Remembrance and Hope brings together in Poland hundreds of college and university students in order to demonstrate the horrors of the Holocaust, and THE NECESSITY OF EACH OF US DOING OUR PART to create a world in which religious and ethnic diversity are cause for celebration rather than discrimination.

The task of creating a better world falls to all of us, and especially to the university student whose energy and idealism will shape the future. The March of Remembrance and Hope inspires participants to believe in the power of individuals and communities to make a difference in the ongoing effort TO ERADICATE INJUSTICE AND BIGOTRY.

For information regarding the optional Israel portion of this program, please contact our office.
The March of Remembrance and Hope is a dynamic educational leadership program. Its purpose is to teach students of different religious and ethnic backgrounds about the dangers of intolerance through the study of the Holocaust, and to promote better relations among people of diverse cultures. The March of Remembrance and Hope brings together in Poland hundreds of college and university students in order to demonstrate the horrors of the Holocaust, and THE NECESSITY OF EACH OF US DOING OUR PART to create a world in which religious and ethnic diversity are cause for celebration rather than discrimination.

The trip to Poland ... forced us all to transcend our religious ... political ... and cultural boundaries in order to bear witness to the common humanity we all share ... the common humanity that speaks in the language of life and death ... hope and despair ... joy and pain ... acceptance and alienation ... This common humanity is what should unite us when injustice is inflicted upon any one of us ... on the basis of these differences. This is not to eradicate the differences ... but to transcend them when there is a need to embrace a higher ideal. — AYESHA SIDDICIA CHAUDHRY, MUSLIM CANADIAN

The March of Remembrance and Hope is an outstanding educational experience that profoundly emphasizes the common humanity we all share and the priceless dignity we all deserve. Only by honoring the memory of the victims of the Holocaust, and by understanding the roots of prejudice — in others and ourselves — and seeing its catastrophic results, can we hope to build a better world for all. — DR. LOIS SCULCO, S. C. ADMINISTRATOR, NATIONAL CATHOLIC CENTER FOR HOLOCAUST EDUCATION V.P. FOR ADMINISTRATION AND STUDENT LIFE, SETON HILL UNIVERSITY

Meeting survivors of the holocaust, like Sylvia Gutman, whose parents were gassed in Auschwitz, particularly touched me. I was moved by her courage and bravery in sharing her story with us and in educating others about the holocaust. — JULIET KARUGAHE, RWANDAN

The task of creating a better world falls to all of us, and especially to the university student whose energy and idealism will shape the future. The March of Remembrance and Hope inspires participants to believe in the power of individuals and communities to make a difference in the ongoing effort TO ERADICATE INJUSTICE AND BIGOTRY.

The Holocaust is not only a Jewish issue; it is a universal issue. Let us learn from the past so that a more humane, tolerant society may evolve for the benefit of all. — ABRAHAM HIRCHSON, MINISTER OF TOURISM, FOUNDER; MARCH OF THE LIVING, JERUSALEM, ISRAEL

Thanks for guiding us to see a side of history in a new perspective; this was truly rewarding ... it is imperative that we all follow one agenda; to make the world as humane and peaceful as possible, let us stand together and proudly say "keep hope alive." — POLISH UNIVERSITY STUDENT

For information regarding the optional Israel portion of this program, please contact our office.
March of Remembrance and Hope works closely with faculty members at colleges and universities throughout the United States, Canada and abroad. We are proud to be affiliated with leading organizations including the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), the Association of Holocaust Organizations and the National Catholic Center for Holocaust Education, in the U.S.; the Centre for Diversity Education and Training (C-DET) and Students Helping Others Understand Tolerance (SHOUT), in Canada; and the Polish American Jewish Alliance (PAJA), in Poland.

History and Background
The March of Remembrance and Hope is a program of the March of the Living, Tel Aviv, Israel, an international leader in educating today’s youth about the Holocaust. The inaugural MRH program, consisting of 400 participants from twenty countries, took place in March 2001. In 2006, over 1,000 students from around the world are expected to participate in this experience.

Cost
The price of the program is US $2250. Scholarships based on merit and financial need are available. Please ask your campus representative for more information regarding scholarship funds. The program fees include the New York orientation, flights on a New York-Poland-New York routing, and land arrangements in Poland. Travel between your home and New York are not included in the fee. Insurance, tips, passport/visa and program text fees are not included.

Applications
For further information and application forms, please contact your campus representative or log on to our website: www.remembranceandhope.com.

* All details subject to change

When a survivor of the holocaust holds hands with a Rwandan student in Auschwitz, and when they dry each other’s tears and learn from one another, we know that Hitler and tyrants like him can be defeated.

– Juliet Karugahe, Rwandan

Participants are encouraged to become involved in campus and community organizations that share the goals of the March of Remembrance and Hope.

This program is a transformative experience. It demands courage, emotional honesty and intellectual fortitude. In return you will be a part of the most passionate, consuming, fulfilling experience imaginable. You will understand why we must continue to teach, to help individuals communicate the message of the simple yet elusive goal for all people – never again.

A Journey Like No Other
The trip to Poland is preceded by a day long orientation in the New York area for all North American students. From there, participants and leaders travel to Europe. You will have the unique opportunity to step into history and visit Holocaust related sites. You will visit monuments and memorials that commemorate the once thriving Jewish cultural centers in Warsaw, Krakow and Lublin that were ravaged during the Holocaust. You will walk through the former death camps of Auschwitz Birkenau and Majdanek witnessing the gas chambers and crematoria where millions of people were murdered.

To stand on this ground, to sense “the presence of the absence” is to feel the power of hatred and the danger of indifference. Perpetrators wrought this evil. The world, with their silence, gave its consent and allowed the atrocities to continue.

An integral part of the MRH program involves Holocaust survivors, who will accompany you on your journey to share their experiences and their wisdom. You will feel their pain, be strengthened by their courage and become a witness yourself by experiencing the Holocaust through the stories of these remaining survivors. Throughout your travels in Poland, you will be encouraged to freely discuss your feelings and impressions. There will be unforgettable moments – moments that inspire dialogue and create special bonds of friendship among the diverse participants on the program. Built on a solid foundation of mutual respect and understanding, such bonds celebrate the blessings of diversity and exemptify the capacity for reconciliation that exists in the human spirit.

Building a Better Future
Participation in the March of Remembrance and Hope marks the beginning of a lifelong journey. On their return home, students will be challenged to speak out against intolerance and injustice, to refute the malevolence of Holocaust deniers; to contribute to a better world; to make a difference.

Participants are encouraged to become involved in campus and community organizations that share the goals of the March of Remembrance and Hope.

This program is a transformative experience. It demands courage, emotional honesty and intellectual fortitude. In return you will be a part of the most passionate, consuming, fulfilling experience imaginable. You will understand why we must continue to teach, to help individuals communicate the message of the simple yet elusive goal for all people – never again.

A Journey Like No Other
The trip to Poland is preceded by a day long orientation in the New York area for all North American students. From there, participants and leaders travel to Europe. You will have the unique opportunity to step into history and visit Holocaust related sites. You will visit monuments and memorials that commemorate the once thriving Jewish cultural centers in Warsaw, Krakow and Lublin that were ravaged during the Holocaust. You will walk through the former death camps of Auschwitz Birkenau and Majdanek witnessing the gas chambers and crematoria where millions of people were murdered.

To stand on this ground, to sense “the presence of the absence” is to feel the power of hatred and the danger of indifference. Perpetrators wrought this evil. The world, with their silence, gave its consent and allowed the atrocities to continue.

An integral part of the MRH program involves Holocaust survivors, who will accompany you on your journey to share their experiences and their wisdom. You will feel their pain, be strengthened by their courage and become a witness yourself by experiencing the Holocaust through the stories of these remaining survivors. Throughout your travels in Poland, you will be encouraged to freely discuss your feelings and impressions. There will be unforgettable moments – moments that inspire dialogue and create special bonds of friendship among the diverse participants on the program. Built on a solid foundation of mutual respect and understanding, such bonds celebrate the blessings of diversity and exemptify the capacity for reconciliation that exists in the human spirit.

Building a Better Future
Participation in the March of Remembrance and Hope marks the beginning of a lifelong journey. On their return home, students will be challenged to speak out against intolerance and injustice, to refute the malevolence of Holocaust deniers; to contribute to a better world; to make a difference.

Participants are encouraged to become involved in campus and community organizations that share the goals of the March of Remembrance and Hope.

This program is a transformative experience. It demands courage, emotional honesty and intellectual fortitude. In return you will be a part of the most passionate, consuming, fulfilling experience imaginable. You will understand why we must continue to teach, to help individuals communicate the message of the simple yet elusive goal for all people – never again.
March of Remembrance and Hope works closely with faculty members at colleges and universities throughout the United States, Canada and abroad. We are proud to be affiliated with leading organizations including the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), the Association of Holocaust Organizations and the National Catholic Center for Holocaust Education, in the U.S.; the Centre for Diversity Education and Training (C-DET) and Students Helping Others Understand Tolerance (SHOUT), in Canada; and the Polish American Jewish Alliance (PAJA), in Poland.

History and Background
The March of Remembrance and Hope is a program of the March of the Living, Tel Aviv, Israel, an international leader in educating today’s youth about the Holocaust. The inaugural MRH program, consisting of 400 participants from twenty countries, took place in March 2001. In 2006, over 1,000 students from around the world are expected to participate in this experience.

Cost
The price of the program is US $2250. Scholarships based on merit and financial need are available. Please ask your campus representative for more information regarding scholarship funds. The program fees include the New York orientation, flights on a New York-Poland-New York routing, and land arrangements in Poland. Travel between your home and New York are not included in the fee. Insurance, tips, passport/visa and program text fees are not included.

Applications
For further information and application forms, please contact your campus representative or log on to our website: www.remembranceandhope.com.

* All details subject to change

The March of Remembrance and Hope is a dynamic educational leadership program. Its purpose is to teach students of different religious and ethnic backgrounds about the dangers of intolerance through the study of the Holocaust, and to promote better relations among people of diverse cultures.

The trip to Poland forced us all to transcend our religious ... political ... and cultural boundaries in order to bear witness to the common humanity we all share ... the common humanity that speaks in the language of life and death ... hope and despair ... joy and pain ... acceptance and alienation ... This common humanity is what should unite us when injustice is inflicted upon any one of us ... on the basis of these differences. This is not to eradicate the differences ... but to transcend them when there is a need to embrace a higher ideal. — AYESHA SIDDQUIA CHAUDHRY, MUSLIM CANADIAN

The task of creating a better world falls to all of us, and especially to the university student whose energy and idealism will shape the future. The March of Remembrance and Hope inspires participants to believe in the power of individuals and communities to make a difference in the ongoing effort to ERADICATE INJUSTICE AND BIGOTRY.

The March of Remembrance and Hope brings together in Poland hundreds of college and university students in order to demonstrate the horrors of the Holocaust, and THE NECESSITY OF EACH OF US DOING OUR PART to create a world in which religious and ethnic diversity are cause for celebration rather than discrimination.

Meeting survivors of the holocaust, like Sylvia Gutman, whose parents were gassed in Auschwitz, particularly touched me. I was moved by her courage and bravery in sharing her story with us and in educating others about the holocaust. — JULIET KARUGAHE, RWANDAN

The March of Remembrance and Hope is an outstanding educational experience that profoundly emphasizes the common humanity we all share and the priceless dignity we all deserve. Only by honoring the memory of the victims of the Holocaust, and by understanding the roots of prejudice - in others and ourselves - and seeing its catastrophic results, can we hope to build a better world for all. — DR. LOIS SCULCO, S. C. ADMINISTRATOR, NATIONAL CATHOLIC CENTER FOR HOLOCAUST EDUCATION, V.P. FOR ADMINISTRATION AND STUDENT LIFE, SETON HILL UNIVERSITY

The March of Remembrance and Hope is an outstanding educational experience that profoundly emphasizes the common humanity we all share and the priceless dignity we all deserve. Only by honoring the memory of the victims of the Holocaust, and by understanding the roots of prejudice - in others and ourselves - and seeing its catastrophic results, can we hope to build a better world for all. — DR. LOIS SCULCO, S. C. ADMINISTRATOR, NATIONAL CATHOLIC CENTER FOR HOLOCAUST EDUCATION, V.P. FOR ADMINISTRATION AND STUDENT LIFE, SETON HILL UNIVERSITY

Thanks for guiding us to see a side of history in a new perspective; this was truly rewarding ... it is imperative that we all follow one agenda; to make the world as humane and peaceful as possible, let us stand together and proudly say "keep hope alive." — POLISH UNIVERSITY STUDENT

The March of The Living offers a wonderful opportunity to study the Holocaust and its legacy in the 21st century. Follow-up meetings and online discussion enable participants to continue their learning and sustain friendships made during the march. The experience is transformative! — MARY JOHNSON PHD, NATIONAL SENIOR PROGRAM ASSOCIATE, FACING HISTORY AND OURSELVES

What I saw and heard in Poland during the March was so transformative that I still have a difficult time finding words to describe it. — PROF. THEODORE PULCINI, DICKINSON COLLEGE

For information regarding the optional Israel portion of this program, please contact our office.